Ike Takes His First Step In March Back To Desk

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower Friday night took the first small but momentous step in a long march back toward active command of the government by signing two federal documents.

The action, taken by the President from his hospital bed after another day of encouraging progress in recuperation from his heart attack, came at 8:27 p.m.—a few hours short of a week from the time he was stricken.

The signing of the documents, providing for promotion of State Department foreign service officers, was the first business transacted by the chief executive since last Friday, the eve of his attack.

Originally White House officials had said Eisenhower merely would initial the two papers. Instead, using a pen from his desk at the temporary White House here, he wrote his full name on each.

His bed was elevated slightly to permit this action.

The documents were laid before the President by his personal physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snider.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters that Snyder told the President that Sherman Adams, the chief executive's top assistant, was on hand, and the two promotions were ready for approval.

No Obstacles

Adams flew here from Washington Friday night, to take charge of the Denver White House, after attending a Cabinet meeting which reached a conclusion that "there are no obstacles to the orderly and uninterrupted conduct of the foreign and domestic affairs of the nation during the period of rest ordered by the President's physician."

Adams drove directly from Lowry Air Force Base to Fitzsimons Army Hospital, but Hagerty said he didn't see Eisenhower personally and probably wouldn't until Saturday.

But even as Ike made ready to initial the documents—one of his heart specialist physicians, a world leader in the field, contributed to already strong indications that Eisenhower won't seek a second term.

Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston, who examined the President last Sunday and Monday, told a national television audience that if he were Eisenhower he "wouldn't want to run" for re-election.

That view—White may express to the President himself eventually—probably will carry tremendous weight with Eisenhower in making his final decision.

Obstacles

Interviewed on the NBC show "Today," White was asked whether it would be possible for the President to run again. He replied:

"Many things are possible that may not be advisable. It is up to him to make the decision. He may or may not have complete recovery. If I were in his shoes, I wouldn't want to run again, having seen the strain."

The hospital announced Friday that Dr. White has agreed to return to Denver from Boston about the end of next week.

The purpose of the return visit, said White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, is to consult with other physicians on the case with respect to the President's condition at the time, and make plans for the rest of the period he will remain in the hospital.

Crash Kills Film Star James Dean

PASO ROBLES, Calif. (AP)—James Dean, brilliant young motion picture actor and sports car road racing enthusiast, was killed Friday night in an automobile accident near here.

A spokesman for Warner Bros. where Dean had just completed "The Giant," said he had no details of the accident except that Dean was en route to a sports car meeting at Salinas, driving a small German speedster.

Dean had appeared in "East of Eden," released last April, and in "Rebel Without a Cause," still unreleased.

SNOW APPEARS

The first snowfall of the fall was reported Friday to police and Officer Lowell Sellmeyer, thinking somebody was kidding, found it was so. A couple of non-snowballers, Ruth Stanley, 9,

... A 'Good Show' By Mother Nature This Fall...

Lincoln last year had one of the most beautifully colorful autumns its residents had ever seen.

And Nature probably will repeat the vivid performance this fall if the weather continues to be as favorable as it has been.

The torrid summer damaged some shrubs, but most trees are set to "give us a good show" if good weather continues, Dr. Victor Miller said.

Dr. Miller, acting chairman of the University of Nebraska horticulture department, said that in general a dry autumn is the most colorful.

A sharp freeze could hamper foliage from exchanging its green colors for the bright yellow, orange and red autumn hues, Dr. Miller said.

Cool nights with a tinge of frost, clear days and not too much rain are conducive to a colorful autumn, he said.

Autumn tones are brought out in the leaves, he said, when the green pigment disappears, leaving them yellow.

Grandsinger No Protests At Hearing Plea Before High Court

The Nebraska Supreme Court, closing its September session, Friday heard the appeal of Lloyd Carroll Grandsinger, 23, from the death penalty for the slaying of Marvin Hansen of Valentine in April, 1954.

Hansen, a state trooper, was shot to death when he and other law enforcement officers set up a road block east of Valentine after being advised that two men in a stolen automobile were in the vicinity.

In the court room during the oral arguments were the father of the slain trooper, the father of the widow and friends.

Defense Attorney Charles Fisher of Chadron argued that Grandsinger did not receive a fair trial. He contended the prosecution was permitted to introduce evidence which prejudiced the jury and he said the jury was improperly instructed.

Opinion of the court as to whether Grandsinger had a fair trial and whether there are circumstances to warrant a reduction of the death sentence probably will not be reached for several weeks when the court acts on the cases heard during the past week of oral arguments.

Grandsinger's brother, Leon, 34, is serving a sentence in the Penitentiary for manslaughter in connection with the case.

Navy Flip-Flops; Commissions Landy

EX-RED MOTHER NOT A BAR, OFFICIAL DECIDES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The secretary of the Navy Friday overruled a special review board and ordered that a reserve commission be granted to Eugene Landy, 21, whose mother was once a Communist.

Secretary Charles Thomas held there was no indication that the honor graduate of the Merchant Marine Academy had ever been influenced by his mother in a subversive way. He said the youth's association with his mother was the "natural relationship of mother and son and not a sympathetic association with her political beliefs."

Mrs. Deborah Landy of Bradley Beach, N. J., the mother, had admitted to 10 years membership in the Communist party. She said she left it in 1947 at the urging of her son.

Standout Cadet

Last August, the Navy withheld the ensign's reserve commission for which young Landy had worked at the academy at Kings Point, N. Y. He stood second in his graduating class, and among other things won the award given by the Daughters of the American Revolution for attainments in naval science.

The Navy said then, and Thomas repeated Friday, there was no question of Landy's personal loyalty to the United States.

Landy, who has begun the study of law at Yale, said at New Haven, Conn., that "I'm very happy" and "now I can start on a normal life again."

Very Sympathetic

He said he had talked with Thomas in New York and "I knew he was going to be very fair about it. He was a very sympathetic person."

Mrs. Landy said she, too, was "very, very happy."

"This suspense was getting us down a little," she said.

A three-man review board, headed by Rear Adm. Kenmore M. McManes, was appointed by Thomas to review the case and it held hearings at the Brooklyn, N. Y., Navy yard Sept. 10-11.

Overruled Board

Thomas disclosed that the board had ruled against granting a commission, but said he decided to overrule after making a "common sense evaluation" of the case himself and interviewing Landy.

Thomas also talked over the case with Vice President Nixon last Wednesday. He explained at the time: "It is an important case and has had a lot of publicity and I thought it was important enough to give the vice president the facts."

The secretary said the record of Landy's appearance before the review board indicated that the young man "conducted himself with credit and answered all questions willingly and forthrightly."

Each On His Own Merit

Thomas said that in reaching his decision to reverse the naval board's recommendations he "could not ignore one of the fundamental principles on which our American way of life has been based and that is the opportunity of each individual to progress and succeed on his own merit."

Further, he said, Landy had never associated with any radical or subversive group and "there is no indication that he has been in any trouble of any kind or done anything that would reflect to his discredit."

Accused In Negro Kidnap, White Pair Free On Bond

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP) — Two white men accused of kidnapping Emmett Louis Till, 14, walked free on bond Friday a week after they were acquitted of slaying the Chicago Negro.

County Judge Charles Pollard bound Roy Bryant, 24, and his half-brother, John W. Milam, 36, over to the Leflore County grand jury and set bond at $10,000 each.

The two waived preliminary hearing. The grand jury meets Nov. 7.

A Tallahatchie County grand jury last Friday found the two men innocent of slaying Till who was taken Aug. 28 from the sharecropper shack of his uncle, Mose Wright, on a plantation near Moncks, Miss., a small community near Greenwood.

A boy taken from the Tallahatchie River Aug. 31 was identified as Till's by his mother, Mrs. Mamie Bradley of Chicago, and Wright.

The defense, however, introduced witnesses at the murder trial who

Curtis Predicting Road Bill Passage

OMAHA (AP) — Some kind of a new federal highway bill will be passed at the next session of Congress, Sen. Carl Curtis predicted Friday.

The senator, during a panel discussion sponsored by the Nebraska Motor Carriers Assn., said he himself prefers a "pay as you go" policy in any new bill.

Rep. Jackson Chase of Omaha said any such program should be taken out of partisan politics and advised a program of "make haste slowly."

Rep. Phil Weaver said he agreed with the slogan "it costs a lot to have good roads, but it costs more to have bad roads."

In an address, Gov. Victor Anson commented that the proposed interstate highway would not be just a luxury but an important part of the nation's defense system.

Regarding that a 50 per cent increase in the number of vehicles is expected, the governor added "present highways just cannot handle this load."

'Shocking' Offer Made Hunters

VILLAGE CITY, N. D. (AP) — Farmer Ed Komrosky had a shocking offer Friday for hunters.

In what could be the trespassing problem, Komrosky said he would gladly exchange labor for a season's hunting rights.

The deal: Komrosky will permit any hunter to shoot on his property all season — if the hunter first puts up 20 shocks of corn. He added he had plenty of ducks, and about 20 acres of corn still to be shocked.

No County Action, So Greeley Taxpayers Sue Commissioner

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Accounting of money received by Ellis Douthit, Greeley County commissioner, has been asked in a suit brought against him and National Surety Corp. by Frank Byerly and Carroll Palser on behalf of taxpayers. Auditor Ray Johnson said he had been informed Friday.

An audit by Johnson reporting the alleged discrepancies was filed with the county last April but no action has been taken by the county attorney and finally taxpayers brought the action.

Johnson told a committee of the Legislature about audits indicating misuse of county funds. Two of the counties mentioned were home counties of members of the committee but no action was taken further than the naming of a Legislative Council committee to study county government.

The state audit said there were indications Douthit was "peculiarly interested in contracts" made by the county and that he had been paid for labor performed with county labor and equipment.

The suit for accounting alleges that Douthit improperly received about $4,000 from the county.

Comparisons with the audit submitted by Johnson show that Douthit received a total of $6,344 in salary and mileage during 1954. Of this, $4,437 came from the road fund and $428 from the mail route fund.

$7.50 Per Day

State law provides that commissioners in a county of that size shall receive $7.50 per day for time actually devoted to county work and that it shall be paid from the general fund but not to exceed $1,450 a year.

U.S. Sure Arab-Israel Crisis Will End Without War

WASHINGTON (INS) — High U. S. officials expressed complete confidence Friday that the Arab-Israel crisis will end without a war and without Russian expansion into the area.

They based their confidence on the proposals British and U.S. diplomats are making to the Egyptian government and on the blunt statements made to the Russian government.

There is a clear recognition of the dangers involved in the situation and particularly in the intensification of crisis which came when Communist Russia and Czechoslovakia agreed to sell arms to the Egyptians.

U.S. officials are well aware that the Russians might be using the arms as the first step toward peaceful infiltration of the Arab states.

No Damage Seen

The U.S. officials refused to reveal the nature of the proposal as assistant secretary George V. Allen has taken to Egyptian Premier Abdel Nasser.

But they said the proposal, which has the support of Great Britain, is expected to resolve the crisis without damage to the West.

Meanwhile, Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY), who just returned from a trip to Israel, "vigorously" protested any nation sending arms to Egypt.

The congressman called it

"shocking" that either the U.S. or Britain would even consider selling arms to Egypt when the Arab nation "grows more bellicose daily."

Officials concede many dangers in the situation. Israel now has an arms superiority which many experts believe to be decisive.

One of the dangers department officials recognize is that if Russian arms reach the Egyptians, Israel may decide to strike while it still has its present military advantage.

The big question mark in the situation is Russian intentions.

One official said that the Russian objective could be anything from an effort to gain a dominant position of influence in Arabia to a simple desire to buy Egyptian cotton.

The question bothering U. S. officials is whether the Russians have started a move to extend their influence into the Middle East.

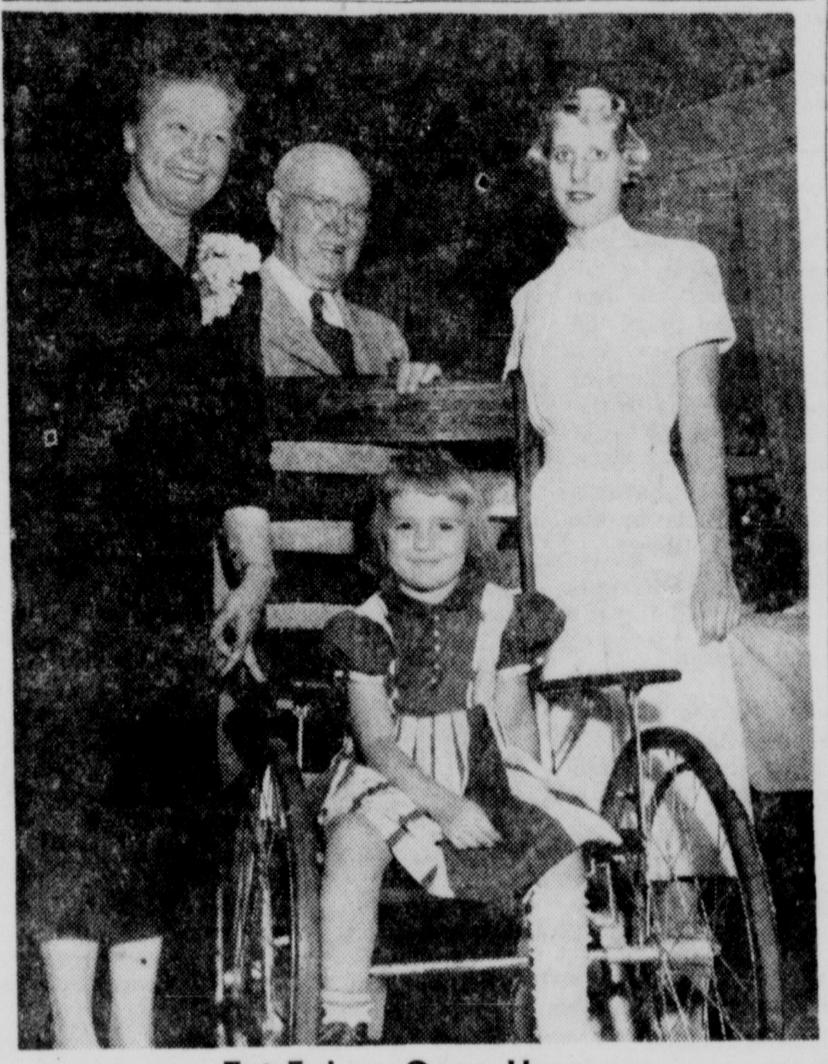

Apparent Danger

There were hints the proposal taken to Cairo by Secretary Allen is designed to counteract such a move.

The danger is apparent. If the Russians send arms and technical advisers to the Arab states, the Arabians will become somewhat dependent upon the Communists whether they like it or not.

To the United States and Britain, could fall the position of being forced to supply arms to Israel to counterbalance the Soviet arms sent to Egypt.

That would push the Arabs further toward the Russian orbit.

Hospital Holds 50th Birthday Open House

More than 250 visitors passed through the reception line Friday at Orthopedic Hospital which observed its 50th anniversary with an open house.

The 110-bed state-owned and Board of Control operated hospital and its staff held open house for visitors to inspect the institution and its facilities.

In charge of the arrangements was Dr. Fritz Teal, chief surgeon, assisted by Dr. F. A. Alcorn, superintendent, and Dr. H. Winnett Orr, one of the two original staff members. The other was Dr. J. P. Lord.

A portrait of Dr. Orr, painted by the late Zanna Anderson, was on display during the activities. Dr. Orr, internationally known orthopedic specialist, distributed his book, "A Personal Account of 50 Years at the Nebraska Orthopedic Hospital," at the observance.

He was instrumental in helping draw the bill that established the hospital Oct. 1, 1905.

Affiliated with University Hospital, most of the cases are indigent patients under 21 whose disabilities are, or result of, orthopedic deformities.

Average case load for the institution is between 60 and 70 patients daily. A staff of 128 including 14 part-time physicians and surgeons, six other part-time employees and 108 full-time staff members, operates the hospital.

For Your Intellectual Entertainment

The following proposition is deliberately distorted so as not to be a means of determining a "correct" answer. This is done to illustrate a point.

Grey is black and white mixed.

As a result of mixing, black becomes grey in the mixture.

As a result of mixing, white becomes grey in the mixture.

Things equal to the same thing are equal to each other.

Therefore, in the mixture, black becomes white.

Things necessarily are what they become.

Therefore, in the mixture, black is white.

The fallacy of the foregoing stems of course from the statement that "black becomes grey" and "white becomes grey". So far as becoming grey is concerned, black must remain black, and white must remain white.

On the other hand, if the amount of black added to white to produce grey is steadily reduced, grey becomes whiter and whiter until, presumably, it becomes white.

If the amount of white added to black is steadily reduced, grey becomes blacker and blacker until, presumably, it becomes black.

Grey represents a structural relationship between black and white more complex than found in either color considered singly.

Greyness may, therefore, be considered in terms of blackness or whiteness, but blackness or whiteness may not be considered in terms of greyness.

Cards Stacked Against Pair In Burglary

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—The cards were stacked against two North Platte city employees who allegedly broke into a filling station. Mayor C. J. Frazier saw a suspicious looking car near the station as he returned to his home from his railroad job about midnight Thursday and called police. After he entered his house he saw two men enter the filling station and called police again.

What the mayor didn't know was that police had been tipped that the breakin would be attempted and Capt. Lloyd Muirhead had been standing just outside the mayor's home since 10 p.m. with a walkie talkie radio.

The pair fled the filling station before the police car arrived but two men identified as Darrell L. Kemper, 27, and Michael Scott, 30, who work on a city garbage collection crew, later were arrested at their homes. Police Chief Dorral Young said they signed statements admitting they broke into the station and took a strongbox, from which they later obtained about $29.50 each. Young said their statements implicated a third man but he was not yet been arrested.

And Still, The Bear

That mellowing smile which Russia's Molotov has been flashing in recent weeks is a whimsical thing. Mr. Molotov may have got up on the wrong side of the bed. Or he may have been congealed with fright that the western world would come to the conclusion Molotov was turning into a softie and no longer could qualify as a sour-puss.

Whatever it was, the fact remains that Mr. Molotov, the hair on the back of his head stiffened, marched out of a session of the United Nations to demonstrate to one and all that he did not like what he heard.

He was just about to hear the Big Three of the western world dish out some tough talk in connection with the unification plans for Germany. And he had just witnessed what in his eyes was the ignominy of recognizing Nationalist China, when a representative of Nationalist China took his seat on the floor of the assembly. So Mr. Molotov stalked out, and in taking leave, neatly avoided listening to what the western powers had to say about Germany.

The only thing which the incident proves, if it proves anything at all, is that a bear may frolic like a lamb, but a bear is still a bear.

It may take weeks or months, but the mills are grinding. We will know before too long whether the smiles which Russia has seen fit to bestow upon the West are genuine or phony. We will know whether Russia is honestly dedicated to peace or whether the Russian bear is up to its old tricks.

Ensign Landy Restored

Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas has ordered an ensign's commission for Eugene W. Landy. The American people are pleased—pleased both to see justice done in the young man's case and to have a notable demonstration of penetrating judgment on the part of the secretary.

Landy, a proficient trainee and good scholar who was graduated recently with honors from the Merchant Marine Academy, was passed over on graduation day, denied the commission he had earned because there were doubts concerning his loyalty. They were doubts of association. There was nothing in the actions or expressions of the young man to arouse question. His outward behavior showed a wholesome loyalty. But his mother, for some years openly sympathetic with Communist philosophies and by her own admission active to some degree for the cause, it was thought, might have exerted an inward influence on her son. Despite the fact that young Landy, though continuing close and affectionate ties with his mother, had never approved of her political philosophies and action and had succeeded in effecting her withdrawal from Red activities, the academy board denied his commission.

Landy took his disappointment with good grace, hoped for vindication, and took his place on the deck of a merchant ship as a plain seaman.

Never was guilty by association more clearly attached to a question.

The error of the academy board was not in accepting association as a factor—a condition requiring examination of its effect on the way to judgment, but it was in making association itself the question in judgment. A fearful, confused, security-conscious authority might have let it stand that way. But Secretary Thomas who did not dismiss the possibilities of association found no evidence that it had affected Landy's loyalty. So he restored him. The case stands as a clear and striking restatement of one of the nation's cherished principles. We are sorry that Landy had to go through the pain and humiliation, but he can be repaid some by the knowledge that his case gave the nation something valuable—a lesson in true American justice.

Lest We Forget

Some men have a special quality. They are willing to risk their lives and frequently lose them in performing service for their fellow men. They are the ones who are seldom recognized, seldom honored and seldom adequately repaid. But they do it anyway and do not seem to reckon the sacrifice.

Of such were the eleven men who were lost with their plane searching the secrets of the hurricane at its heart. For 10 years hurricane hunter squadrons have gambled their lives for the facts that have led to much saving of life and better storm warnings. It is a business with a poor future but the fliers have never stopped for that. In the case of the unfortunate eleven, it should never be forgotten that the hurricane which got them would have got countless others but for them.

To such this world owes an immense amount. So much of its real improvement has come from those who humbly bought it with their lives, for others.

Editorial Of The Day

A Blunder Admitted

(From The Minneapolis Tribune)

It is difficult to see how Secretary of Agriculture Benson could have made a more magnanimous confession of error in the Wolf Ladejinsky case than he did before a Senate subcommittee Tuesday.

Benson expressed personal regret over his department's blunder in classifying Ladejinsky as a security risk. He accepted full responsibility for that blunder, frankly admitting that he and members of his staff were inexperienced in security matters at the time Ladejinsky was so classified.

Since that time, the subcommittee was told, the department of agriculture has revised its security procedures and Mr. Eisenhower has made recommendations which would minimize the chances of similar mistakes. Benson does not believe that another Ladejinsky case could occur under the precautions now adopted. He hopes that his testimony will close "an unfortunate chapter in the department security program."

The secretary has provided an admirable note of candor on which to close the chapter. The Ladejinsky case deserved to be kept alive only so long as some good purpose could be served by keeping it alive. But Ladejinsky's good name has been cleared and the department of agriculture, through Benson, has frankly admitted his mistake. Equally important, there has been an honest effort to safeguard the security program against future errors of the sort.

Crucial Matters Of State Are Piling Up

WASHINGTON — Time and tide, it is said, wait for no man. And while the President lies sick in Denver, some crucial matters speed to a climax in various parts of the world. Here are the most important:

Disunity with West Germany— John Foster Dulles has been so irritated with the concessions Chancellor Adenauer made in Moscow that the chancellor offered to fly to New York this week to confer with Dulles and straighten things out. The offer was not accepted. Instead, German Foreign Minister Von Brentano is in New York.

Irritation With Eden— Dulles and Prime Minister Eden are also rubbing each other the wrong way.

Dulles suspects him of sliding over toward the Russian view in regard to Germany. Eden, in turn, is so sore at Dulles he hardly communicates with him.

Explosion in Greece— The trouble between Greece and Turkey is even worse than appears in the headlines. Worst development is the possibility that the strongly pro-American government of Premier Papagos may be overthrown. Like Eisenhower, Papagos is now ill. Meanwhile American refusal to support Greece both in regard to Cyprus and in its quarrel with Turkey has started a tremendous wave of anti-American feeling.

In Washington, Undersecretary of State Hoover had announced that Adenauer had done a great job. But the private reaction inside the State Department was just the opposite. Ambassador Bohlen cabled from Moscow that Adenauer had been virtual putty in Russian hands, and warned that the United States could not trust the West Germans to stand up against the Kremlin in the future.

Prior to this, Adenauer was the darling of John Foster Dulles. He could do no wrong. Today, Dulles seems not so sure. The United States had counted on West Germany as the backbone of the military bloc to defend Europe against Russia. Today opinions are shaken.

If they continue their quarrel, these defenses may be neutralized. Or if Premier Papagos falls, a neutralist Greek premier will probably take office and might turn to Russia for support.

This is the most serious, urgent crisis facing the State Department. Germany and the coming foreign ministers conference, has done little about it.

Russian Arms to Egypt— For the past week U.S. Ambassador Byrd in Egypt has been cabling the State Department, warning that if the United States didn't sell arms to Egypt it would buy from Russia.

He informed Dulles that Moscow had offered Premier Nasser $100 million worth of tanks, artillery, and infantry equipment any time he wanted it. That warning was all too accurate. Russian arms to Egypt, now officially and publicly offered, will set a precedent for both Russian arms and Russian influence in oil-rich Saudi Arabia and other Arab areas, already seething with revolt.

ADENAUER IN MOSCOW

In New York this week, Secretary Dulles is chiefly concentrating on the problem of allied unity in regard to German unity. He needs to.

For some of the things that happened inside the Kremlin when Adenauer conferred with the Soviet leaders have now been leaking out. American diplomats were not present, of course. But through talks with the Germans they have pieced together some of the things that happened.

Khrushchev is reported to have treated the West German chancellor at times like a small boy. At one point he is reported to have declared: "You want your prisoners. All right, send us an ambassador."

Adenauer got so indignant at one point that he ordered his plane prepared to leave Moscow. But one of his advisers urged that he would be finished politically if he came home with no agreement on the return of German prisoners held in Russia. So Adenauer threw away his chief bargaining weapon, the resumption of diplomatic relations with Russia, to secure the return of German prisoners — how many of them remains to be seen.

Balanced Technical-Academic Education Advocated

New Building Dedicated At Kearney State

KEARNEY, Neb. — The belief that balanced technical-academic education is necessary for America's future was expressed Friday at the dedication of the new vocational arts building at Kearney State Teachers College.

Dr. Berne Fryklund, president of Stout, Wis., State College, said too much emphasis on academic education had partly caused the decline of Rome and modern France.

The dedication of the $80,000 building is a part of the college's golden anniversary homecoming celebration. The building was completed in August and was first placed in use this fall.

Ex-Faculty Member
"Let's educate people first for work and then for satisfying happy lives," said Dr. Fryklund in explaining his concept of a balanced education. He served as head of the industrial arts department here from 1922 to 1929.

The program also featured the presentation of a Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) award to Kearney State President Herbert L. Cushing for his "courageous stand" in last year's college debate controversy.

Dr. Cushing opposed the selection by the national debate group of possible recognition of Communist China as the principal intercollegiate debating topic for the year.

Omaha Woman Bound Over On Homicide Charge

OMAHA (AP) — Mrs. Lois E. Stohler, 26, of Omaha was bound over to District Court Friday under $2,500 bond on a charge of motor vehicle homicide.

Mrs. Stohler's car fatally injured Dean Coleman, 29, on the Locust Street Viaduct Sept. 3.

Municipal Judge Patrick O'Conor said his ruling was based on conflicting testimony of two investigating policemen, one of whom testified that Mrs. Stohler was intoxicated and the other that she was not.

"We'll let the jury decide," Judge O'Conor commented.

Page Carpenter Still In Critical Condition

Lincoln Star Special

Construction of the new addition will be part of a three-year million dollar expansion program for the college being financed by the five synods of the United Lutheran Church in America which support it.

The building committee of the Midland board of trustees is one of five that will hold sessions during the board's three-day meeting, October 3-5. Others are committees on building and grounds, public relations, finance, and instruction and honors.

New Addition Will Double Dorm Capacity

FREMONT, Neb. — Construction work that will double the capacity of Midland College's main dormitory for women, Beegle Hall, is expected to begin next week after bids are received Monday.

A college board of trustees committee will receive bids Monday night for the construction of a $197,856 addition to Beegle Hall. Capacity of the building, which now houses 75 coeds, will be upped to 147 with the addition.

The new addition will be constructed south from the east side of the hall and will be four stories high. Work on the addition is to be completed by September.

Chapel Included

The new structure will contain a chapel, an infirmary, and a residence apartment for the superintendent of buildings and grounds at the college.

McGowan Seeks Exact State Line On Omaha Bridge

OMAHA (AP) — Chief Deputy County Attorney Robert McGowan said Friday he is asking the Corps of Engineers to determine the exact location of the state line on Ak-Sar-Ben bridge.

McGowan said the definite borderline is essential in determining the jurisdiction of possible criminal prosecution and damage suits in the Sunday traffic fatality on the bridge.

"It is not a question of safety statistics or which state gets the deaths," McGowan said. "It is strictly one, necessary for legal jurisdiction."

Butler Will Visit Omaha Oct. 21

OMAHA (AP) — National Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler will visit Omaha Oct. 21, National Committeeman Bernard J. Boyle reported.

Boyle said members of the State Central Committee and county chairmen will meet with Butler and the national chairman also will attend a meeting of Democratic women.

The building committee of the Midland board of trustees is one of five that will hold sessions during the board's three-day meeting, October 3-5. Others are committees on building and grounds, public relations, finance, and instruction and honors.

High Mortgage Debt Not Seen As Dangerous

OMAHA (AP) — Thomas A. Maxwell, deputy governor of the Farm Credit Administration, said here he does not view the high mortgage debt as dangerous.

Maxwell, in a talk at a Federation of National Farm Loan Associations meeting, said "this is true despite the fact that by the end of the year farm mortgage debt will be the highest in 22 years."

He predicted a debt of nine billion by Dec. 31. In 1933, at the height of the depression, the debt was $8 billion.

But, he added, there are individual farmers who are in trouble and "we think the land banks are going to be called upon to provide credit to a lot more farmers."

Rural Fire Protection District Plans Laid

O'NEILL, Neb. (AP) — Preliminary plans for a rural fire protection district in the vicinity of O'Neill were developed at an informal meeting here with about 40 farmers and ranchers present.

Andy Clark, former Holt County Supervisor, said there is "considerable enthusiasm" for a district.

McGowan said the definite borderline is essential in determining the jurisdiction of possible criminal prosecution and damage suits in the Sunday traffic fatality on the bridge.

"It is not a question of safety statistics or which state gets the deaths," McGowan said. "It is strictly one, necessary for legal jurisdiction."

The remaining 32 purple ribbon steers and heifers brought prices ranging from 47 cents down to 29 cents. Friday's market base on that type of cattle was about $23.75 a hundred weight.

Orville E. Kuhlman of North Platte exhibited the bull and female champions at the Ak-Sar-Ben Hereford show, and also won 17 of 22 possible class first places. Both reserve champions were shown by Norbert Borwege of Roseland.

Turncoat Dickenson Conviction Is Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The highest military court upheld Friday the conviction of Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, 24, the first turncoat American tried on charges of aiding the Communists while a prisoner of war in Korea.

The military court of appeals unanimously sustained an Army court-martial's conviction of Dickenson and his sentence—10 years at hard labor plus a dishonorable discharge and forfeiture of pay and allowances.

Dickenson, from the little town of Cracker's Neck, Va., is serving his sentence at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.

His attorneys had raised various legal objections to the court-martial, and said the evidence did not justify convicting Dickenson of collaborating with his Communist captors to curry favor and win better treatment for himself.

But the three-man Military Court of Appeals, in a 12,000-word opinion written by Chief Judge Robert E. Quinn, rejected the defense contentions. It said the record proved that Dickenson had engaged in a "pattern of informing" on his fellow POWs and that he was a "Judas" who told the Reds of another prisoner's plans to escape.

"It is axiomatic," Quinn wrote, "that a conviction cannot be sustained on the basis of suspicion or surmise . . . but in this case there is far more than suspicion; there are cold, solid facts. The findings of guilty are supported by the evidence and the reasonable inferences to be drawn therefrom."

The court said the evidence supports the conclusion that Dickenson was motivated by a wish to win the favor of the Communists, who held him a prisoner from November 1950 until October 1953. He was found guilty in May 1954 by an eight-man trial board.

Changed Minds

Dickenson was one of 23 captured American soldiers who first elected to remain with the Communists. Shortly after the prisoner exchange which followed the Korean armistice, however, he and

Langer Cut From Banquet Speaker List

BOSTON (AP) — The appearance of Sen. William F. Langer (R-ND) as a keynote speaker before the Federal Employees Veterans Assn. convention was canceled Friday by the organization "in the best interests of all concerned."

National Commander Kenneth T. Lyons, of Watertown, Mass., said a speech made by Langer last night in New York on behalf of Morton Sobell, convicted with executed atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, made it "inadvisable for Sen. Langer to speak to a group of federal employees."

Langer was said by relatives to be in New York. However, he could not be located there for comment on Lyons' statement.

In his speech at a Carnegie Hall meeting, Langer told an assembly he will "do all I can to see that justice is done" in the Sobell case. Sobell is serving a 30-year sentence in Alcatraz.

The meeting, sponsored by "The Assembly for Justice for Morton Sobell," had been prominently advertised in the Communist newspaper "The Daily Worker."

Texans To Join Freed Prisoner Waiting On Wake

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Two Texans took off for Wake Island Friday in the hope they can persuade a kinsman to end his self-imposed exile and continue his homeward flight from Chinese Red captivity.

The brother and a cousin of Dilmus Kanady, 36, left San Francisco aboard a Pan-American Clipper and were due to land Sunday at Wake where the Houston, Tex., businessman stepped off an America-bound airliner and refused to go farther.

Kanady was freed only last Monday at Hong Kong after four and a half years of Communist imprisonment in China.

The newly-released prisoner of the Reds had declared he would continue his homeward trip from Wake only on a U. S. military plane.

William Kanady said of his brother's strange plight that "possibly the emotional upset of being released after 4½ years in the hands of the Reds confused him—he might not have been sure of his destination."

Nike Engine Blast Kills 1, Injures 8

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N.M. (AP) — A Nike engine exploded while being tested Friday, killing one man and injuring eight others and blowing the roof off a building.

None of the injured was in serious condition.

"Something went wrong," a spokesman said. "It was a chemical explosion. They're just investigating now but it will probably take several days to determine just how the explosion occurred."

Clyde F. Wofford of Las Cruces died two hours after the explosion in a hospital.

Most of the injuries incurred were acid burns.

O'Connor Says 24 Million Polio Shots May Be Available In '56

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Basil O'Connor of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said Friday there might be enough Salk polio vaccine available next year to vaccinate 24 million children.

Also, the Public Health Service announced release of another 2,604,153 cubic centimeters, or "shots," for current programs.

"There is no reason why there shouldn't be adequate vaccine next year," O'Connor said at a news conference.

"Adequate."

"You ask what I mean by 'adequate.' Let's put it this way: There is no reason why there shouldn't be a large amount of vaccine available next year, maybe enough to vaccinate approximately 24 million children in the one to nine year age group—the highly susceptible group."

O'Connor said there are about 30 million children in that age group, but more than six million first and second graders will have received two shots under the free programs sponsored by NFIP this year but not yet completed.

The foundation is not paying for the third shot for these children, but aids to O'Connor said the implication of his remarks about next year's supplies was that third shots for the first and second graders could be obtained from current supplies.

Mass Scale

The alternative to individual vaccination by private physicians, he said in reply to a question, would be to have the government finance programs conducted on a mass scale in schools—similar to the one financed by the NFIP this year. But he declined to say whether he would favor a government program.

The foundation does not plan to have run out of gas and, on investigation, discovered the three occupants had shot and killed two hogs and four chickens.

Deputy Bob Anderson said the car's occupants, two men and a woman, admitted they shot the animals, but told the deputy they didn't know where.

The sheriff's office hasn't been able to find out just where it was either, Anderson said Friday, and it is looking for the owner.

Sooner 20-Game Streak Faces Tough Challenge

NORMAN, Okla. — Oklahoma's 20-game winning surge, longest in collegiate football today, gets a perilous challenge here Saturday when Pittsburgh invades before a crowd that may exceed 50,000.

Coach Johnny Michelosen's potent Panthers, big and deep and dangerous, roared from behind with fighting rallies to blast California 27-7 and Syracuse 28-12 and have the power, the personnel and the coaching to overthrow Oklahoma.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's lightheaded Sooners, breaking in a brand new backfield, new ends and several new reserves, sputtered to a 13-6 victory over hard-fighting North Carolina last week at Chapel Hill yet gave promise of things to come by rushing 403 net yards, forward passing 80 more and on defense holding the Tar Heels outside the 39-yard line.

Kickoff is at 3 p.m. CST. The

Buff, Hawks In Big 7 Go

BOULDER, Colo. — Colorado opens its 1955 Big Seven football season here Saturday against a greatly improved Kansas club and the word from Assistant Coach Marshall Wells, who scouted the Jayhawks last week, is that the Buffaloes can expect a busy afternoon.

"I would say unhesitatingly that Kansas is 40 per cent improved over last year," commented Wells after watching the Jayhawks snap a 17-game losing streak with a 13-0 win over Washington State.

"They have much more punch in their backfield. They blocked and tackled fiercely and the team spirit was impressive. Strauss is a fine quarterback who solves what was one of their biggest problems last year. I liked the way their sophomore halfbacks, Francisco and Taylor, ran. Our boys are going to have to be at the top of their game Saturday, that's for sure."

The Kansans, admittedly anticipating a great lift in spirit after snapping the longest losing string in major college football, will roar into Folsom Field seeking a repeat of their last appearance when they came to Boulder as underdogs in 1953 and turned on a surge of fourth-period power to upset Colorado, 27-21. Until last Saturday that was their last previous victory.

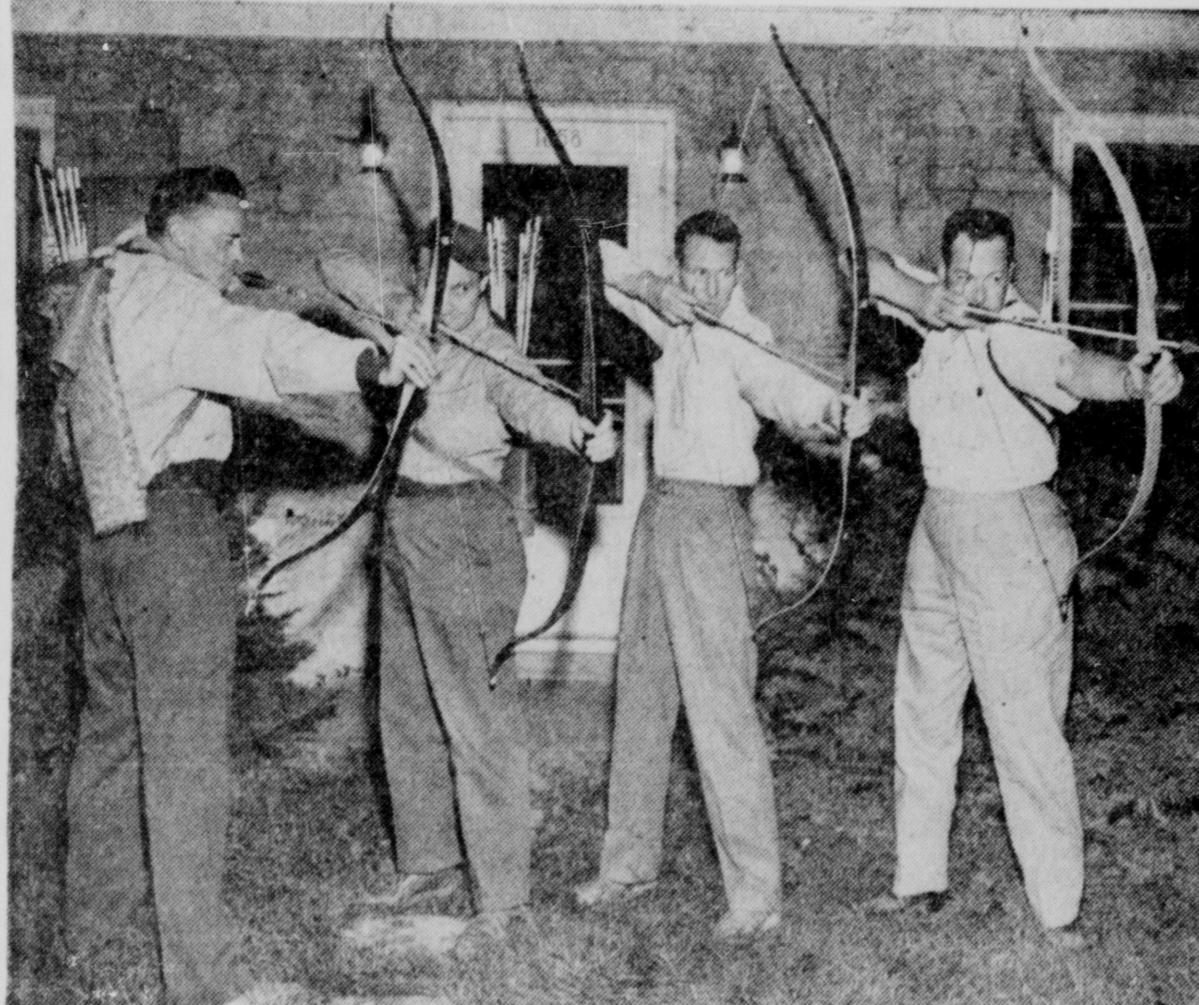

Although the score didn't indicate a runaway, Coach Dal Ward was pleased with the play of his club in Saturday's 14-0 win over Arizona in a game which saw the last two quarters played in a steady rain.

"Our lines played up to expectations," commented Ward. "They did a fine job against a big, good Arizona line. Definitely, we were a good ball club. Of course, our offense sputtered after our opening touchdown. But we lost the ball on fumbles five times and it's hard to keep a drive going when you keep giving the ball away. We're going to work hard on our offense from now on and I certainly hope we find the handle on the ball this week."

Nebraska Robin Hoods Take Aim

MICHELSEN'S best back apparently is Corky Cost, 169-pound left half who has averaged six yards per carry. Also formidable are Dick Bowen, his 196-pound substitute who has for 5.2 yards per play and Fullback Bob Grier, 196-pound senior who rolled 32 yards to one of the three touchdowns Pitts scored in the fourth quarter against Lynn Waldorf's California Bears while rallying to break a 7-7 tie.

Football Moves In Today To Share Sports Spotlight With Big Series

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

For at least a couple of hours Saturday the World Series will have to share the attention of sports fans with the kind of football games that will be hogging the headlines from now until December.

College football, which has virtually eliminated early-season warm-up games, goes into the first Saturday in October with a schedule packed with important conference and inter-sectional games. A lot of the big teams have to win today to stay in contention for sectional or national titles.

Perhaps in deference to baseball, two of the big ones were set up so they wouldn't conflict with the fourth series clash. The all-important meeting between Maryland and Baylor is a night game, while the late-starting Ohio State-Stanford contest was picked as the national television game of the week.

Maryland, the nation's No. 1 team in the weekly Associated Press poll following its victory over UCLA, can't afford a let down against George Sauer's pass-minded Baylor Bears. Neither can Ohio State's Rose Bowl champions, rated eighth after a close one against Nebraska.

Although the program is loaded with intersectional games that may have a bearing on the national rankings, decisive games are scheduled in several of the major conferences.

For instance, Michigan, the Big Ten favorite, takes on always-dangerous Michigan State; Wisconsin and Iowa, two of the top contenders in that powerful loop, come together, and Purdue tackles Minnesota, Michigan is ranked second in this week's national poll.

Colorado and Kansas meet in an important Big Seven Conference game and in the Southwest Conference favored Texas Christian invades Fayetteville, Ark., to play defending champion Arkansas.

UCLA, which dropped to seventh in the ratings, is a strong favorite over badly beaten Washington State but needs the conference victory. In the South, the Auburn-Florida and William and Mary-Virginia Tech games may have some bearing on title races. The big southern games are third-ranked Georgia Tech's clash with Southern Methodist and the inter-conference duel between Duke and Tennessee.

Notre Dame, up in fourth place after a smashing victory over SMU bounces into Indiana, Oklahoma, the No. 5 team, takes on an eastern toughie, Pittsburgh, and injury-shattered Notre Dame (No. 6) faces another of the East's top teams, Penn State.

Some of the other interesting intersectional games are South Carolina-Navy, Tulane - Northwestern, Rice - Louisiana State, Kentucky - Villanova, Missouri - Utah, Marquette - Tulsa, Arizona-Idaho and California-Pennsylvania.

Of more than passing interest are Cornell - Colgate, Dartmouth-Holy Cross, Princeton - Columbia and Yale - Brown in the East; Clemson - Georgia, Vanderbilt - Alabama, North Carolina State - North Carolina, Virginia - George Washington and West Virginia-Wake Forest in the South.

Scattered over the rest of the nation, Illinois-Iowa State, Kansas State-Nebraska, Texas A & M-Houston, Oklahoma A & M-Texas Tech, Wyoming-Utah State, Montana-Bingham Young, Colorado A & M-Denver and Oregon-Washington.

Some of the other interesting

Irish Favored By 14 Points; Brennan Has Fingers Crossed

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Notre Dame's football Irish are favored by 14 points over invading Indiana before 57,000 today, but Coach Terry Brennan has his fingers crossed.

The picture was almost the same last season entering the No. 2 game of Brennan's inaugural campaign.

In the 1954 opener, Notre Dame slammed and banged a 21-0 victory over Texas. The Irish were bruising, alert and efficient against the Longhorns.

But the following Saturday came Purdue and Len Dawson. When the Boilermakers' sharpshooter finished pitching, the Irish were on the short end of a 27-14 score.

Only Defeat

That proved the only Notre Dame defeat in 10 starts, although the Irish needed a strong dash of luck

Education Aid Bill May Pass, Says Official

In The Lincoln Record Book

MARRIAGE LICENSES

A good chance for passage at the next session of Congress of a federal aid to education bill is seen by James McCaskill, director of legislation and federal relations for the National Education Association in Washington, D.C.

McCaskill is in Lincoln attending committee meetings of the Nebraska State Education Association.

The NEA is very pleased with the administration's stand on education legislation, said McCaskill. The NEA, he said, was very happy to see President Eisenhower list federal aid to education as one of the major concerns of the next Congress.

The bill likely to be approved, he said, is the Kelly school construction bill which contains three provisions for aid.

One provision is a 50-50 matching grant from the government with $4 million a year to carry the program for four years.

A second provision would enable school districts which can't sell bonds on the open market for less than 3 per cent interest to sell their bonds to the government at 3 per cent.

A third provision would bring federal money into a reserve fund in states where schools would construct facilities through a state school building agency.

This is presently the only major bill affecting education that will be under consideration by Congress, McCaskill said.

AF Grounds Every C-47 For Gasoline Tank Inspections

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force Friday grounded all C-47's, work horses of the transport fleet since World War II, because of the possible use of a cleaning and preservative compound in a few fuel tanks. The compound could clog fuel lines under certain conditions, the Air Force said.

The Air Force reported it was unable to make an immediate estimate of the total number of these aircraft in service at home and abroad and a spokesman estimated that the number runs into the hundreds.

A spokesman said that all Air Force commands where this type of aircraft is still in use have been ordered to inspect the fuel tanks to determine whether the cleaning compound has been used. The spokesman explained that if the compound, whose exact description was not made public, has been used in any tank it can be detected promptly and easily.

Base commanders were authorized to free their C-47's for use as soon as they check their planes for the use of the compound.

Nixon To Reveal Speech Schedule

WASHINGTON (INS) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon will announce Monday how many of 15 scheduled speeches he will deliver during October.

His office said Nixon also will make his decision on whether to go through with a scheduled trip to the Mid-East in November.

One of Nixon's aids told newsmen that none of the speeches, if delivered at all, will be political in nature.

One of the October speeches — in San Francisco Oct. 10 — was canceled Thursday when it was announced that Nixon would make no speeches that required him to be away from Washington over night during President Eisenhower's illness.

Interstate Highway Map Lists Routes

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Details on the connection of Lincoln to the proposed national system of interstate highways have been shown in a map made public by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

The map shows the planned east-west route coming from Omaha and passing Lincoln on the north, but with a dip toward the city just north of the downtown area.

The only authorized connecting route to Lincoln is a north-south tie to the business district to handle both east and west traffic on the interstate.

State Engineer L. N. Ress said he had also asked that the Northeast Radial from 10th and O to Havelock be included as an interstate connecting route.

The routes for the state, otherwise, apparently are the same as those suggested by the State Highway Department.

The plans call for a rectangular belt around Omaha and Council Bluffs with roads taking off toward Sioux City, Des Moines and St. Joseph as well as Lincoln and a stub into the Omaha business district.

The east-west interstate route would come from the southwest to South Omaha and cross the South Omaha Bridge into Iowa.

There would be a southwest radial route to connect downtown Om-

Two Pen Employees Will Get Special Correctional Training

Two employees of the Nebraska Penitentiary will set up a training course for guards and correctional officers at Nebraska institutions after the two men themselves have returned from a special training course at El Reno, Okla.

The Board of Control named the two men as C. F. Hubbell and Cecil E. Cross. The two will begin a two-week course at the Federal Reformatory at El Reno on Oct. 3.

Chairman Thomas Dredla said the men are being sent to the training school upon the recommendation of Col. B. B. Albert, the state penal director.

"He knew about this course. We think it will help us with our own training program," Dredla commented.

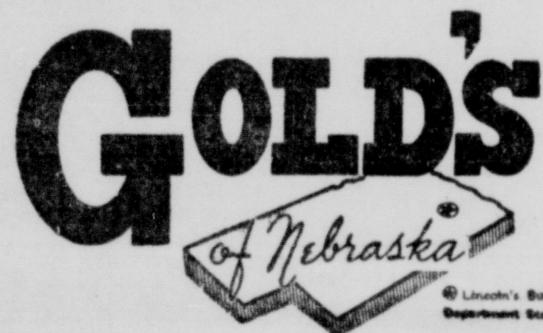

Cost of sending the two men to El Reno, including transportation and subsistence while there, was estimated at $143.55 for the two. Dredla said the board is still

Interfrat Council Amendment Nixed

Interfraternity Council members at the University of Nebraska turned down a constitutional amendment which would have allowed rushers who pledged during rush week to pledge another fraternity within 30 days.

Chuck Tomsen, Delta Tau Delta president who first proposed the change, said three rushers pledged during rush week this fall; intending to pledge another fraternity within 30 days.

Thirteen fraternities were in favor of the change and nine against it, with one abstaining. A two-thirds vote was needed for approval.

The IFC constitutional provision in force states that a rushee who pledges a fraternity must wait a semester before pledging another fraternity.
